

Letter 342a: 17 October [1527, Strasbourg], The Strasbourg Preachers to Whom it May Concern

Printed in BDS 10, pp. 47-50, # 3.

[Summary]: Felicitas, née Scherenschleger, appeared before them on 10 October [1527]. Her husband, Bastian Stettenberger, was granted the divorce he had applied for after admitting to adultery. He was subsequently banned from the city. In view of his past behaviour she is not willing to reconcile and requests permission to remarry. The preachers acknowledge that she has been deserted and may therefore consider herself free to remarry according to imperial, natural, and divine right.
