

Letter 599: 10 March 1536, [Strasbourg], Capito to Heinrich Bullinger

Printed in HBBW 6:164–5, Ep. 762.

[Summary]: The first pharmacist whom Capito approached did not find it convenient to accept an apprentice at this time. A second man also declined, saying that he already had an apprentice until December. Capito negotiated with a third pharmacist, who reduced his original demand from 24 to 20 gulden for training and boarding the young man. He might be induced to accept 18 gulden, however. Capito is awaiting instructions from the parents. He mentions the planned concord with the Lutherans and sends greetings to Leo [Jud].
