

Letter 606: 19 April 1536, [Strasbourg], Capito to Heinrich Bullinger

Printed in HBBW 6:247, Ep. 802.

[Summary]: Capito urges Bullinger to attend the meeting with the Lutherans. Bullinger is 'young in years, but grave in authority.' He will learn more at the colloquy than through many months of reading. Speech is more revealing than written communication. He himself will go to Eisenach in spite of his poor health. There will be no representatives of the secular government, which will allow the theologians to express their opinions more candidly.
